Reaching the Least of These in Uganda

December 2025

Dear Family and Friends,

As I write this quarterly update, I am amazed at how quickly this year has gone by. Through every transition, every high and low, one truth has remained constant—God has been faithful. I am so thankful for your continued prayers and faithful support. You have walked with me through many seasons of ministry, and your partnership has strengthened and encouraged me more than you know.

In my last letter, I introduced you to Missionary Rick Anderson, I am excited to share that he has recently asked me to marry him. We are planning our wedding for May 2 of next year. This has reminded me that God's timing and His way is perfect.

At the end of this year, I will be relocating to Tennessee to begin serving as a missionary with the BIMi Home Office. This new chapter brings both joy and anticipation as I continue serving the Lord in missions, just in a different capacity. I would appreciate your continued support because I am still supported as a missionary and will not be receiving a salary from BIMi.

Over the past few months, Rick and I have been traveling to our supporting churches and getting to know each other's families. We are grateful for how God is directing our steps.

If you would like for me—or the both of us—to come and share our testimonies, give a ministry update, or present how the Lord is leading us in the area of missions, we would love the opportunity to visit your church. Please feel free to contact me at Kerri2uganda@gmail.com.

Thank you again for your prayers, your love, and your faithful investment in the work of the Lord. I am wishing each of you a Merry Christmas and hope you enjoy the extra time with your families. I look forward with excitement to all He has in store.

Merry Christmas!
